

A Little Servant Girl and a Proud General

He had taken a slave girl from a battle, but she forgave him and wanted to help him.

Naaman was an important General in an important country but he had a nasty skin disease.

The slave girl told him to go to see Elisha, God's prophet but instead he went to the King to be healed.

God healed Naaman's proud heart and when he washed in the river, he was healed on the outside too.

The king couldn't help so he went to Elisha's house. Naaman was cross when Elisha didn't greet him and told him to simply wash in a river.

Naaman tried to pay Elisha but he discovered that God's healing gift is free! The good news is God can heal our proud hearts too!
